*Sept. 2004-December 2019 Celyad SA
Founder, Chief Executive Officer and Board member*

Celyad SA is a biotechnology company currently active in the field of CAR T cells for oncology applications. Celyad was initially called Cardio3 BioSciences, and, at its inception, developed a stem cell based treatment for cardiovascular diseases. The company was founded on a technology invented by a researcher from Harvard Medical School. The Company reinvented itself when we acquired our NKG2D based CAR T asset from Dartmouth college, which allowed us to list on NASDAQ in 2015.
